

Giving 'em A Lick Or Two

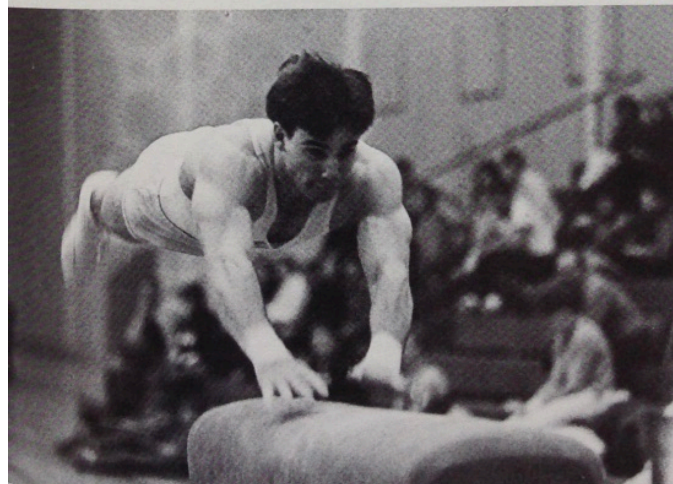

The men's gymnastics team, licked every opponent. They defeated eight straight opponents to finish the regular season unblemished. They took second place at the Colorado Classic, fourth in the Rocky Mountain Open and finished third in the WAC Championships. Chuck Schweiss showed his prowess on the pommel horse and Ron Propoggio was excellent on the horizontal bars.

The team MVP award went to senior Preston Thompson. A top all-around performer, he led the team to its first undefeated season. He was low man in two major collegiate tournaments and placed 15th in the WAC championships.

T. WILL

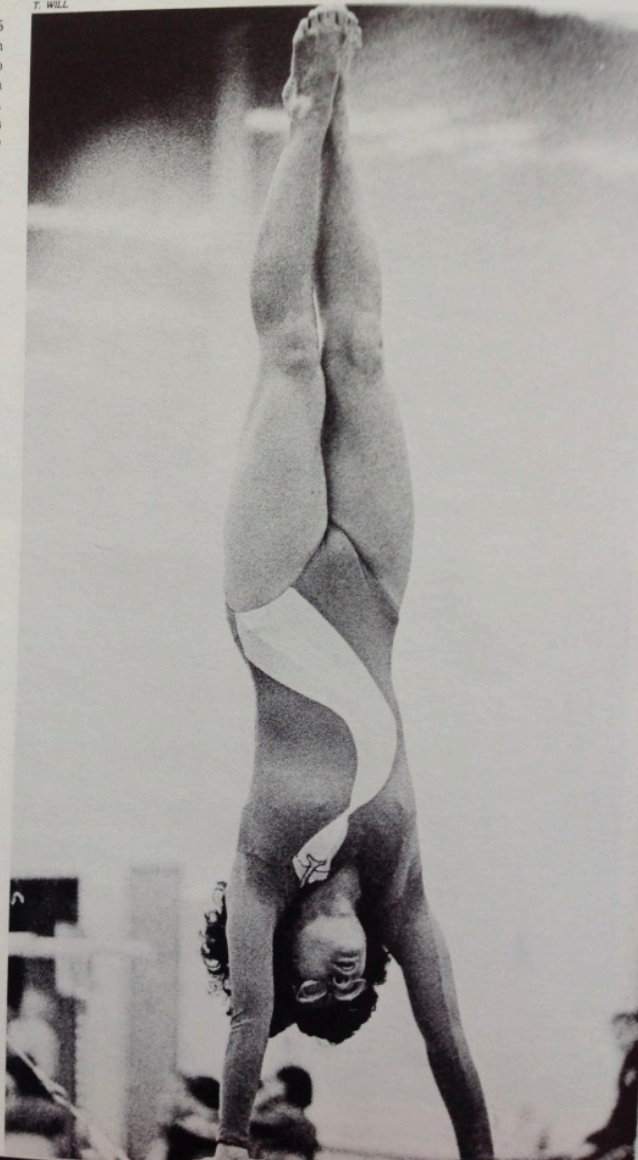

Opposite Page: Team captain, Chuck Schweiss likes his routine on the parallel bars so much he can taste it. Above: A difficult split L position is held with apparent ease. Left: Team MVP, Preston Thompson, initiates a vault, one of the more difficult gymnastic routines.

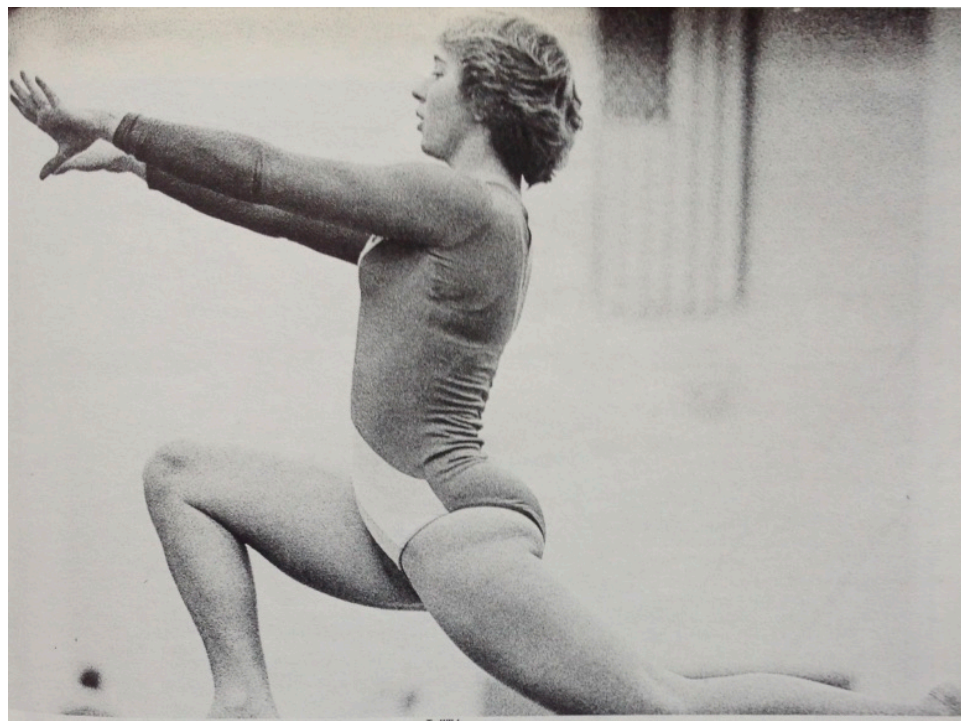

Beauty and the Balance

The women gymnasts compiled a 9.5 season record. The team scored victories in the Colorado Classic, finished second to Denver in the Division II regionals and then 10th in the AIAW National Championships. Denver took first place with 141.30 points but the Falcons ended up tenth being only nine points behind at 132.

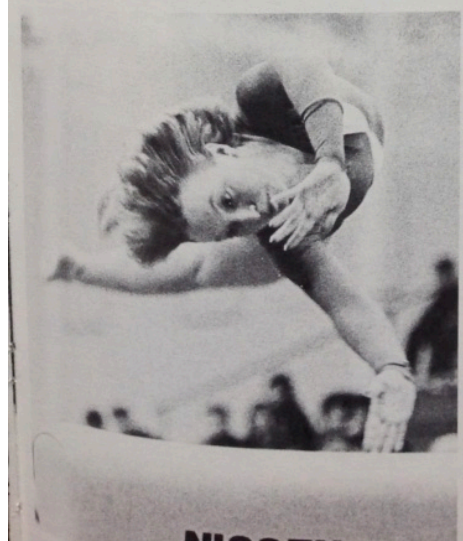

The MVP for the team was sophomore Ellen Nelson. She was strong in all events being the No. 1 all-arounder for the team. Maree McGlinn placed first in vaulting and Nelson was second in floor exercise at the regionals, both were named to the all-region team. Lynn Vergis, with two fifth places, was also named to the team.

T. WILL

T. WILL

Opposite Page: Nancy Kiyota does a perfect hand stand. Above: The beauty and grace of gymnastics is captured. Left: Lynn Vergis does a vault.